WALLY WATERDROP

Official tour guide and mascot

CLEANING DIRTY WATER from homes and businesses is a topic not often discussed around the dinner table. However, it is the most fundamental practice ensuring that public health and the environment are protected.

The Sewer District has a diverse group of professional engineers, scientists, environmentalists, and technicians available to speak about wastewater treatment and related clean water issues:

Wastewater Treatment

- Virtual wastewater-treatment tour
- Where Does it Go?
- History of sewers

Environmental Education

- Natural water cycle vs. urban water cycle
- Water quality testing
- What fish and bugs tell us about our clean water environment

Stormwater

- What is a watershed?
- Best practices for stormwater management
- Non-point source pollution
- Stormwater's impacts to our region

And more!

- Engineering and construction projects
- Career and business opportunities
- Cost-saving programs
